

Communication research needs and priorities in Asia : Pulau Pinang 22-24 September 1983 :
[contents]

1983

<https://hdl.handle.net/10356/91632>

AMIC-UNESCO-USM SEMINAR ON IDENTIFICATION OF COMMUNICATION RESEARCH NEEDS & PRIORITIES IN ASIA,
PENANG,
SEP 22-24, 1983

2
9

015577

659.3.001.5(5) AMIC

AMIC UNESCO USM Seminar on Identification of Communication Research Needs & Priorities in Asia, Penang,
Sep 22-24, 1983 . - Singapore : Asian Mass Communication Research & Information Centre, 1983.

lv (various pagings)

The seminar set out to identify the priorities for a research agenda on communication for Asian countries.
It also proposed to develop and promote structures and mechanisms for cooperation in research as well as for the dissemination and sharing of research results among communication scholars and practitioners. Finally, it also discussed the implications of the new communication developments on the design of communication education and training programmes so that they may flexibly crest developments of the future.

CONTENTS

1. Programme & List Of Participants. 5p
2. Speech. By Seri Adib Adam. 9p
3. Communication Research In Asia : Impressions And Intuitions.
By Crispin C Maslog. 60p
4. New Communication Technologies And Developing Societies. By J S Yadava. 41p
5. Planning Curricula For An Information Society. By Vincent Lowe. 25p
6. Workshop Grouping Reports. 10p