AMIC Seminar on Communication Research Needs in Asia, Singapore, Sep 18-20, 1990 . - Singapore : Asian Mass Communication Research and Information Centre, 1990.
lv (various pagings)

Over 20 delegates from 15 countries discussed topics like the need for expertise and professional research organisations in the region, and how methods developed in the West could be applied in the region. The seminar also helps to draw attention to how communication, and research into its methods, can highlight problems like poverty and illiteracy in other countries.
