AMIC Consultation on Press Systems in SAARC, Kathaandu, Nepal, Apr 2-5, 1991 . - Singapore : Asian Mass Communication Research and Information Centre, 1991.
lv (various pagings)

The consultative meeting was to abstract the principal philosophical and legal tenets of the press systems of SAARC states to generate a comprehensible doctrine of press systems in SAARC societies. It intended to provide a forum for exchange of views among media professionals, academics and government officials in SAARC countries on the role and responsibility of the press in the region, and the limits of press freedom and government control.
